BENJAMIN N. CARDOZO SCHOOL OF LAW
OF YESHIVA UNIVERSITY

55 FIFTH AVENUE • NEW YORK, NY 10003 • SUITE 1004 • (212) 790-0288

I take great pleasure in congratulating the class of 1988 and celebrating the tenth commencement of the Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law. Cardozo has, during its young life, made giant strides toward establishing itself as a school of great distinction. Its faculty is increasingly recognized for scholarship and creative involvement in the educational process, its administration has generated constructive innovation and a sense of community, and you, its students, have lent your intellect, integrity and commitment to the environment that is Cardozo.

As our alumni approach 3000 in number, their increasing impact upon society, in the private and public sectors, is evident. And the continuing dedication of the Cardozo Board of Directors, other visionary supporters, and Yeshiva University augurs well for our future.

Justice Cardozo challenged us to make the final cause of law the welfare of society. My fondest wish and confident expectation is that you will breathe life into those noble words as you build wonderful careers and constructive lives.

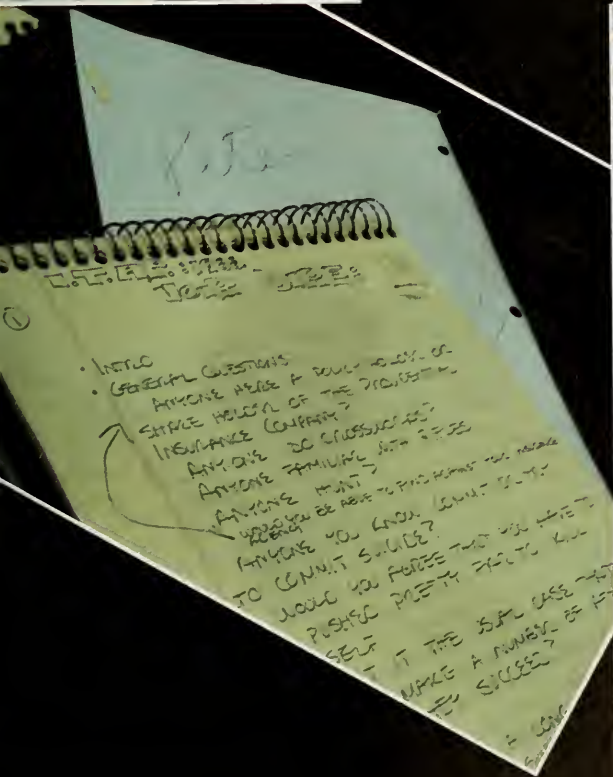

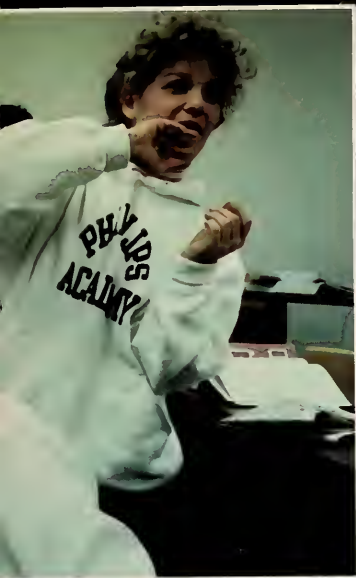

Cordially,

Jacob Burns

MESSAGE TO STUDENTS OF CARDOZO 1988

Dear Graduates:

The class of 1988 of the Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law is one of special distinction: You are the tenth graduating class of a school that began as a vision in the minds and hearts of its founders which is now an internationally recognized institution that has made uncommon strides towards meeting its destiny. That distinction carries with it very special responsibilities.

We charge you now, as we have challenged you in the classroom during your three years with us, to be more than just excellent attorneys ready and able to make contributions to your firms, concerns or businesses. We expect that you will join your fellow Cardozo and Yeshiva alumni in building your careers with the utmost concern for the needs of humanity. When we chose to name our school of law, we joined with Justice Cardozo in the belief that "the final cause of law is the welfare of society." You too are inexorably part of that tradition.

As you leave our institution, I offer you my best wishes for brilliant and satisfying careers, and for rich personal lives which will have been enhanced immeasurably by your studies at Cardozo.

Cordially yours,

This yearbook is a tribute to the work and accomplishments of the Class of '88. It reflects the continuing growth of the Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law achieved by the our students through their contributions to the School. This is a class that has witnessed and participated in many scholarly and educational events. It has successfully directed the publication of important issues of the Cardozo Law Review, including The Bork Nomination (three weeks from conception to the newsstands--a truly remarkable effort), the Arts & Entertainment Law Journal, The Women's Annotated Legal Bibliography and The Real Estate News Reporter. Most important, the students in this book have developed a spirit of community and commaraderie that will be a source of comfort and happiness during the days of their career.

Judge Benjamin N. Cardozo, who maintained that "the final cause of law is the welfare of society," would have been proud to have fathered this tenth graduating class. It is a class that will surely propound its knowledge of legal theory combined with the moral and ethical standards it has learned and demonstrated at School over the last three years.

Reflections On Cardozo's Past

From Past To Present . . .

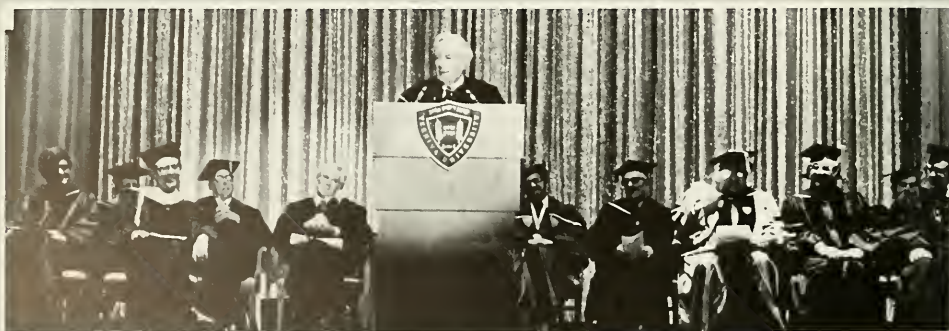

The Benjamin N. Cardozo School Of Law Of Yeshiva University Opened In September Of 1976.

The Selection Of Faculty Upon Whose Scholarship And Teaching The School Was To Be Founded Began In The Summer Of 1975 With The Appointment Of Professor Monrad G. Paulsen As Both The University Vice President For Legal Education And As Cardozo's First Dean. A Distinguished Teacher, Administrator, And Legal Scholar In The Fields Of Domestic Relations, Constitutional Law, And Juvenile Delinquency, He Came To Cardozo From The University Of Virginia School Of Law Where He Had Been Dean Since 1969. The Selection Of The Balance Of The Initial Faculty Of Twelve Was Completed In Early 1976.

A Construction Program Was Begun At The University's Brookdale Center, 55 Fifth Avenue, In Early 1976, Which Included Classrooms, Seminar Rooms, Lecture Halls, A Moot Court Room, Faculty Offices, And A Student Lounge. A Major And Central Component Was The Three-Story Law Library, Which Initially Held 90,000 Volumes And Today Holds Nearly 300,000.

He has worked at Shearman & Sterling since graduating from law school, and was elected a partner in 1982. He concentrates on international corporate finance with an emphasis on corporate reorganization of troubled companies. Professor Schwarcz also has maintained his interest in science, serving on the City Bar Association's Special Committee on Science and Law. He has been active for some years as counsel for the historic preservation of the national landmark Eldridge Street Synagogue.

Hugh T. Scogin

Adjunct Professor of Law. A.M. 1975, University of Chicago (Far Eastern Languages and Civilizations); J.D., 1982, Harvard Law School, Associate, Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, et. al. (N.Y., Beijing, Hong Kong).

Herbert Semmel

Adjunct Research Professor of Law and Director, Center for Law and Health. B.S., 1950, New York University; LL.B., 1953, Harvard University.

Professor Semmel was director of the Health Law Project at the Center for Law and Social Policy 1974-80 and was director of the center itself 1977-80. He was professor of law at the University of Illinois from 1965 to 1972 and has also taught at the University of California at Los Angeles and University of Texas. He is director of Cardozo's Center for Law and Health, chair of the Legal Action Committee of the American Public Health Association, and has served on the District of Columbia Medicaid Advisory Committee and Statewide Health Coordinating Council. He is author of Social Justice Through Law: New Approaches in the Law of Civil Procedure.

Marla Simpson

Marla Simpson, a graduate of Michigan Law School, is presently a public interest lawyer with Lawyers for the Public Interest. She was previously in private practice specializing in litigation regarding intellectual property including cases involving video game trademarks and the suit brought by the Pasteur Institute against the U.S. government regarding French scientific research on AIDS.

Jonathan L. Sulds

Adjunct Associate Professor of Law. B.A., M.A., 1971, Colgate University; J.D., 1974, Harvard University.

Professor Sulds is a member of the firm of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher, where he specializes in labor and employment law. He is a Phi Beta Kappa magna cum laude graduate of Colgate University and cum laude graduate of Harvard Law School, where he was articles editor of the Harvard Civil Rights/Civil Liberties Law Review. He is a member of the Labor and Employment Law Committee, Association of the Bar of the City of New York.

Leon Wildes

Adjunct Professor of Law. B.A., 1954, Yeshiva University; J.D., 1957, LL.M., 1959, New York University.

Senior partner of Wildes & Weinberg, a leading New York City immigration law firm, Professor Wildes is widely known for his representation of John Lennon and Yoko Ono in their celebrated immigration case. He is the former national president of the American Immigration Lawyers Association, and a member of its Board of Governors. Having published and lectured extensively in his field, Professor Wildes inaugurated Cardozo's course on immigration law.

Hiring Partner
Important Law Firm
New York, NY

To whom it may concern,

I very much enjoyed meeting with you some weeks ago. You made a very favorable impression on me, and I was impressed with you as a person as well as your firm's credentials.

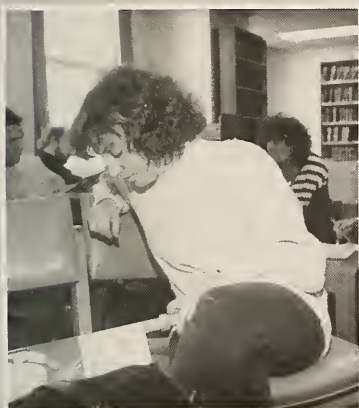

As I am sure you can appreciate, I have interviewed with an extraordinary number of highly qualified firms. The task of choosing from among them is a difficult one, but as I am limited in the number of offers I can accept, I decline offers from many qualified candidates. Unfortunately, I do not believe it would be mutually beneficial to pursue further discussions with you at this time.

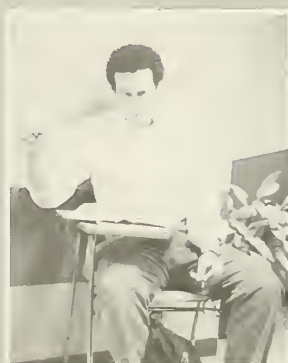

I appreciate your interest in me and the time you took to meet with me. Good luck in your careers — I wish you much success in finding someone to your liking, and I am certain you will all excel in your future endeavors. If it later appears that I will be able to consider a position with your firm, I will be in touch with you.

Later,

Ben Cardozo

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

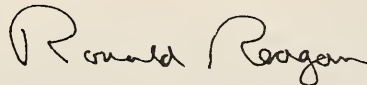

April 15, 1988

To the 1988 Graduates of
Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law:

It is a pleasure to join your families, friends, and professors in extending congratulations to you on your graduation from law school.

One of our greatest Founding Fathers, James Madison, once wrote, ". . . a people who mean to be their own Governors must arm themselves with the power which knowledge gives." Thomas Jefferson referred to much the same idea when he swore his "eternal hostility against every form of tyranny over the mind of man." On this occasion I urge you to use the knowledge you have gained through higher education to strengthen not only our own free society, but to promote the spread of freedom and justice for all. Our century has taught us lessons, all too many of them bitter ones, about wisdom as the key to liberty. To keep our heritage alive, our first labor must be to understand it.

Once again, congratulations. Nancy and I send you our best wishes for every happiness. God bless you, and God bless America.

May 1, 1988

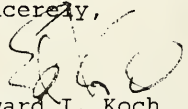

To the Class of 1988:

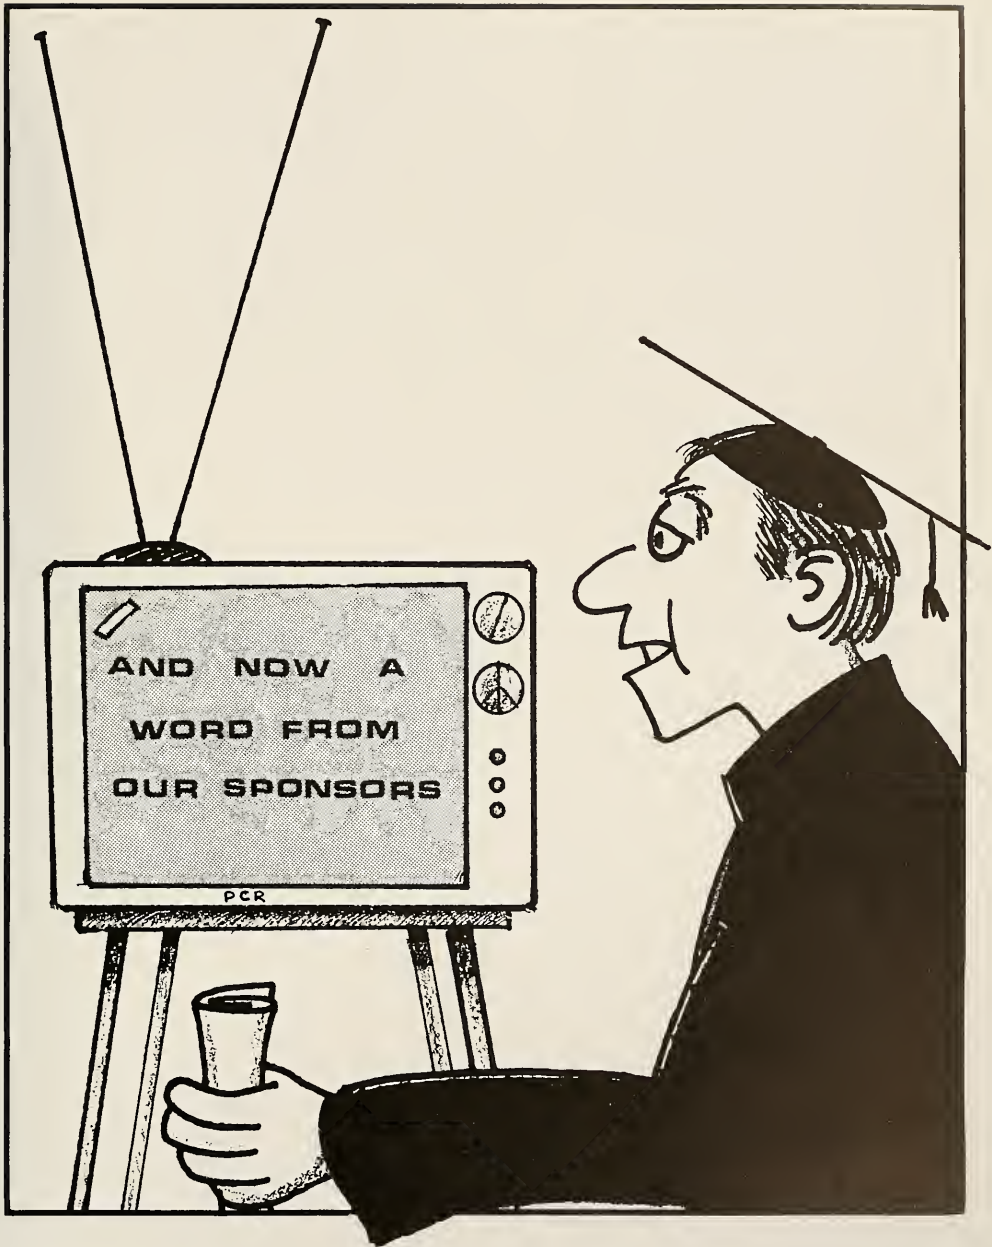

On behalf of the City of New York, I am pleased to extend my congratulations to you as your Graduation Day approaches.

This is a special event in your lives, and -- as you are the 10th graduating class -- it is a special event in the life of the Cardozo School of Law too. The name of Benjamin N. Cardozo will forever be synonymous with the highest levels of legal scholarship, with the quest for equal justice under law, and with respect for democratic values. You inherit quite a legacy, and will be the carriers of a tradition of excellence.

As new lawyers, you will soon be seeing our rights as American Citizens not as the theory of the classroom but as the reality of the courtroom. May that experience prove as satisfying in your lives and careers as it did in mine.

Sincerely,

Edward I. Koch
Mayor
